

I am deeply concerned about Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to air an anti - Kerry documentary just days before a public election.

It is by understanding that Sinclair is obligated by law to serve the public interest. It is not in the best interest of the public to engage in one sided broadcasting before an election. Media control to manipulate public opinion is very dangerous to the democratic process.

The anti - Kerry program entitled "Stolen Honor " should not be aired unless Sinclair broadcasting also airs a pro Kerry program entitled " Going Upriver".

It is very important that companies like Sinclair are forced to act responsibly in their reporting during election campaigns.
